Of the ordinary kind. the chances are we'd lose out. That's what we decided when our "Furnishing goods man" kicked on the advertising. He claimed we hadn't said a word "in his fevor" for a long time. We knew we hadn't and felt that it was "up to us for good." But before he could "strike" we had decided that we'd make the biggest "hit" of the season. When you see those new Fall Ties displayed in the copper case you'll see how we were "there with the goods."

It's easily an assortment of the richest effects in "Nackery" that this season has produced. But, without mentioning the fact, you'd know that it couldn't be otherwise at this store. We're showing in Ties what will be approved by the best dressers. But can't you guess what's coming? You'll only have about four weeks to think about it.
